

Middle School Summer Reading

Regular Classes

Students in grades 6-8 may read any book they wish in order to participate in the extra-credit opportunity when school begins; however, remember that this is a school assignment. Consequently, books should be grade-level and content appropriate. A list of recommended titles is available on the secondary reading web page. Pre-AP[®] Classes

Students enrolled in these classes have required summer reading assignments. English coordinators have compiled a list from which students are to select books. Students should contact their schools or consult campus web sites for this information.

has no advantage over the man who can’t read them.”*
